

Rolic is a subsidiary of BASF Group and a worldwide operating innovative high-tech company headquartered in Switzerland with locations in Eindhoven (NL) and Shanghai (CN). Rolic develops and sells applicable coating materials and functional foil products for displays, for security elements and the sealing of highly sensitive products. Skilled staff and leading scientists from more than 15 countries are Rolic's employees.

For our department "Optical Film Formulations" we are looking for a

Research Associate / Chemist

to support our activities for 1 year with possibility to renew.

Main Tasks

- Design, Synthesis and Characterization of Liquid Crystal Molecules to be applied in thin films for OLED or LCD Display applications
- Development of formulations and coatings of Liquid Crystal Materials, as well as their characterization
- Support process scale-up of newly developed materials

Profile

- Doctorate in Chemistry with focus on Organic Synthesis
- Proven knowledge in material science and application processes
- Basic knowledge of optics, especially polarization optics and birefringence
- Experience in project management
- Good communication skills
- Good German and English skills
- Ability to work in an interdisciplinary environment
- Result-oriented and quality-conscious

Do you want to support our team?
Please send your complete application documents in English to Anna-Maria Cappetta, Head Human Resources human-resources@rolic.ch